Symbius Medical Receives Accreditation from ACHC

PHOENIX, AZ July 20, 2011 ó Symbius Medical a leading provider in home medical supplies to customers nationwide receives accreditation from the Accreditation Commission for Health Care, Inc. (ACHC) for Rehabilitation Technology Suppliers Services, Home/Durable Medical Equipment Services, and Clinical Respiratory Care Services.

Accreditation is award for a three-year period and this is the second time, Symbius Medical has received it. The importance of maintaining our accreditation with the Commission is demonstrated through our continued compliance with ACHC's standards and Symbius Medical's commitment to educating our staff regarding the policies and procedures that govern a medical equipment company.

“I am extremely proud of our company's achievement and the commitment to quality our staff provides from our customer service and billing departments to warehouse and clinical personnel,” said Dwight Knox, President, at Symbius Medical. “This is a true testament of the leadership within our organization not only at our Phoenix headquarters, but our branch offices in Salt Lake City, UT and San Diego, CA as well.”

One of the ACHC's objectives is to assist home care providers in improving their organization by requirements and/or suggestions for consideration by the provider. Meaning the Commission can help an organization identify areas that may or may not have deficiencies and make recommendations for consideration.
